George has been an integral part of the company success. He has shown time and again his unwavering determination to solve problems to the best of his abilities. In the face of difficult tasks he shows no fear but only the passion to find the perfect solution and get it done. We love have him around and listen to his ideas and look at his creation. It was an absolute joy when working with him and we even want him to drop out of school to work with us full time, but that's to be determined :)
